

John Jacobs

John H. Jacobs is currently member and acting president of the Social Economic Council Curaçao. He is a board member of the development banks Korpodeko and the Ontwikkelingsbank van de Nederlandse Antillen, and a member of the tripartite National Dialogue in representation of employers. He was previously i.a. member of all three committees charged with organizing a consultative referendum on the constitutional status of Curaçao.

He holds a law degree, is married and has two daughters.